Purpose of Policy

The King's Way acknowledges that the way we access information has changed and often we use mobile technology in preference to that of a Personal Computer. The use of mobile technologies can be used as a further tool for learning in the right settings.

TKW allows students to bring in tablet devices for learning, though they are expected to use devices in accordance with this policy and must sign a declaration, agreeing to be bound by the rules and requirements set out below.

This policy should be read in conjunction with the Online, Email and Social Media Safety Policy.

Liability Statement and Guidelines for Acceptable Use of Personal ICT Device

(referred to as personal devices).

All students who bring a personal device must agree to:

- use the device at their own risk and must use it responsibly,
- use for educational purposes as instructed by TKW staff, strictly no games allowed, use as directed by their teacher in class,
- turn off all notifications and sounds unless directed by TKW staff,
- never 'distribute' images or videos or any other material relating to students or staff,
- the responsibility to check their device to ensure it is free from unsuitable material and viruses,
- installing Anti-Virus software on Android and Windows tablets,
- being entirely responsible for the upkeep and protection of their personal devices,
- never circumventing the Centre's network security, including setting up proxies / VPN's and downloading programs to bypass security,
- never connecting a mobile phone to the wireless network,
- the responsibility for safe storage of personal devices and a protective case must be used to prevent accidental damage,
- keeping devices with them at all times and ensuring that they come to school fully charged.

Browsing the internet on your own device is not private and web content is monitored by TKW staff. In the case of misuse of internet, which is regarded as a serious offence, we expect to follow usual school procedures for unacceptable behaviour.

If individuals, volunteers, staff or students experience disruption to their experience at TKW as a consequence of misuse, one or more of the following sanctions may apply:

- Personal devices may be confiscated and kept in a secure area until a parent/guardian collects it.
- The privilege of being permitted to bring and use a personal device at TKW may be removed.

ELKOLET and TKW are in no way responsible for a personal device that is:

- lost, stolen or broken at TKW or during charity-sponsored activities,
- in need of maintenance including charging, installing updates/upgrades, fixing software/hardware,
- without insurance cover to repair or replace a personal device in the event of loss or damage.

What are my responsibilities as a student? You must:

- Be responsible for the safety, security, and proper use of your own personal device at all times.
- Always keep your personal device with you, ensuring it is kept safe and secure.
- Accept that there are no secure facilities provided to store your personal device.

- Charge the device prior to bringing it into TKW.

- Check the device for viruses and unsuitable material daily prior to bringing the device into TKW.

Frequently Asked Questions

How do I get permission to use a personal ICT device at TKW?

Sign and return the BYOD agreement to Paula Knowles.

Can I transfer work from TKW computers to my personal ICT device?

Students may transfer work from TKW computers to a tablet / laptop device and vice versa using Google Drive. TKW will provide all students with an account. Training will be issued on how to use Google Drive in the classroom.

Can students connect their devices to the Centre Network to access software and shared files?

Students will not be able to access all network resources whilst using personal ICT devices. Use of a personal ICT device is limited initially to internet use, Apps and document creation via a secure wireless network.

Devices should be charged at home. There is no facility to charge devices at TKW.
